We are required to verify work income through the Colorado Department of Labor and Employment for all people who get Medical Assistance. The Department of Labor and Employment told us that income for your household may be different than the income you reported to us.

The information reported from the Colorado Department of Labor and Employment was: $ ( ) for the time period of:

The income was reported by
The income may be for any working person in your household.

If the income reported from the Colorado Department of Labor and Employment is not right, you can send in all verification of the income for the time period reported above and current verification of income. You can give this to us by getting a letter from the employer or by giving us pay stubs.

If you or someone in your household does not work for this employer, please contact me and also contact the employer.

If you agree with the income reported by the Department of Labor and Employment, you do not have to do anything.

The income reported by the Department of Labor and Employment may change who will get Medical Assistance in your household. You will receive another letter if any members of your household will no longer get Medical Assistance. If you do not get such a letter, members of your household that have Medical Assistance now will continue to get Medical Assistance.

If you have any questions, please contact me at the phone number listed above.

Thank you.
